SAVE & SERVE HUMANITY

Introductory Report

President's Message:

The organization has accounted its nodal responsibility for the participation, development, empowerment and sustainability of the marginalized, deprived, under-privileged, neglected and impoverished communities in Pakistan.

Save and Serve Humanity hope to intervene and transform precarious societies into resilient harmonized systems bearing livelihood, living standards, market and legal access, equality and brighter future for posterity in collaboration with its local and international network partners. With a healthy confidence, I am certain for advancement towards the mission of serving and execution of the organization manifesto towards the spectrum of deserving societal domains and identifying opportunities having long projectile impact on the grass-root, primary and lateral units of stratification. The principle of integrated business support mechanism will continue and foster with further additions of programs, projects and provisions to play a catalyst role in the transforming the world into just and equitable place for the inhabitants.

I am also grateful to my team members for their hard work and dedicated effort in the field. But above all, I would like to recognize our community organizations for demonstrating resilience in the face of extreme adversity and for being the agents of hope and change in this country.

EDUCATION

"Give Knowledge, Create Opportunity"

"It is not enough to build a school. You need to build character as well."

'We want study, we love books, we like pen and paper, but our parents doesn't understand our feelings, Perhaps that's, why we are poor'.

Save and Serve Humanity education programme thus aims to develop confident young citizens capable of developing the leadership skills that will help their communities grow, Establish formal and non-formal educational institutionsparticularly in less developed areas with especial focus on girls, boys and adult's education as well as Technical and Vocational training

- Formal and Non- formal Education,
- Adult Education,
- Skill development,
- Technical and Vocational Training

The objectives of the Education Programme will be met by:

- Infrastructure development
- Building and improving education facilities
- Providing teaching and learning materials
- Appointing teachers from the local community
- Arrange Teacher Training
- Creating partnership between school management committees and Government Departments.
- Raising overall administrative and academic standards
- Mainstreaming gender

While education is acknowledged as a universal right, millions of Pakistani children in rural areas are out of school. In many developing countries millions of children do not go to school. There are no schools in their villages, there are not enough trained teachers available and parents have no money to pay for school fees, uniforms and materials. With limited resources, parents often decide to send their boys to school while girls are tasked to help with household tasks.

Around the world almost

58 million

children are not attending primary school, more than half of which are girls of the

781 million illiterate people worldwide,

64 percent

are women. Every child has the right to education. Investing in girls' education creates a current effect: educated girls make informed decisions about their maternal health, delay motherhood, raise fewer and healthier children and will make sure they receive a quality education. The result wealthier families and communities.

Informal Education:

To fight against illiteracy, Save and Serve Humanity has a plan to establish Home Schools in District Kasur, Lahore and Sheikhupura. These schools will run in the homes of the community girls. The neighborhood children attend the school. Many teenage girls drop out of school after class 5, because no secondary school is present in the area. These girls will provided books as well as taught by other educated girls in the community. They are then encouraged to give private high school examinations. Textbooks will also be provide free of cost to the needy students, and there is no fees. The furniture for the school including black board, dari, chairs, tables etc will also provide. In addition, efforts are directed towards improving mothers' literacy through Adult Literacy Classes. Mothers are taught to read and write using simple techniques. This will help raise awareness among mothers on various issues.

Save & Serve Humanity Vocational Training Centre:

Save and Serve Humanity has a plan to establish Vocational Centres in different District like Kasur, Lahore and Sheikhupura to provide learning Opportunities for young girls and boys. These centers will be provide skills in Sewing, cutting and embroidery classes are held for young girls. Computer classes provide software and hardware training for both boys and girls. Internet facilities are also provided. In addition, English language classes will also held for youth. These centers will help in providing income generation activities.

Save & Serve Humanity Adult Education:

Adult education is a powerful means to reduce poverty because it offers reading, writing and numeracy, as well as other fundamental life skills that allow learning to continue throughout one's life. Education allows adults to gain the knowledge and skills for participation in society and the knowledge of economy. Literacy education program for adults is geared towards the poorest of the Society especially disadvantaged women groups.

Formation of School Management Committee:

For quality education Save and Serve Humanity will form school management committee from local community to see and monitor Overall.

HEALTH PROGRAMMES

“Give Health, Alleviate Poverty”

Save and Serve Humanity Health program has embarked upon the mission to highlight and work on issues related, especially HIV/AIDs, Hepatitis, women and children by advocating for basic health rights, improving reproductive health, capacity building of the men and women Health Committees, health advocacy and forging links with the local health system play a significant role in affecting people's socio economic life. Save and Serve Humanity has firm belief that only healthy and educated communities can contribute to the development and uplift of societies.

Advance tool for Health and Hygiene Awareness:

One of the major objectives of the Health programme is to educate the community on personal/community hygiene matters and preventive healthcare measures. Health education is a process through which people learn causes and effects of relationship between variables and health and well-being. Access to information on how communicable/contagious and water born diseases are spread and the knowledge about how to prevent this happening leading to gradual modifications of habits and bring about attitudinal change in human behavior towards a better and healthy life. Health education also provides information on better utilization of scarce resources. Imparting awareness and capacity building are accomplished through following tools.

Mobile Medical Health Camps (MHC):

To provide the much needed health care facilities in the underprivileged areas of Lahore, Kasur and Sheikhupura, Save and Serve Humanity will organizes a weekly basis mobile medical Health camp that will cover all surrounding areas on a rotational basis.

Save and Serve Humanity will able to carry out these activities with the help of Corporate, civil societies organizations and Donor agencies.

Targets for Medical Camps:

- On each visit as many as 60 individual patients consisting of men, women and children will be examined
- Annually approximately 24,000 patients will be check
- Proper medical attention inclusive of free medicines will also be provide.
- The common sickness normally seen and diagnosed are diarrhea, respiratory tract infections, gastroenteritis, vomiting and malnutrition and other sessional decease
- Follow ups of serious cases is separately maintained and taken care of.

Laboratory Test:

Save and Serve Humanity will arrange simple medical test of Hepatitis, HIV/AIDS and Drug addicted people on nominal rates or free of cost, these tests include pragrencey, urine, sugar level, HIV/AIDs, Hepatitis etc, Leopard profile and sophisticated medical test including diagnosis of diseases through pathological tests, medicines and consultancy etc, for the community through net working with the Government Hospitals, private laboratory in the area.

The objectives of the Health Programmes:

- Participatory health dialogues, Building and improving health units.
- Trainings of Community Volunteers, TBAs and Health Committee Members.
- Coordination with Line Departments facilitating coordination between health management committees and local government.
- Arrange session with School student for Health and Hygiene.
- Seminar, and workshops Conduct medical camps on different seasonal diseases in different area.
- Information dissemination through printed material and audio visual etc.
- Health Services.

Good health is the most important aspect of our lives. Our health is the foundation on which we build our world and without a strong foundation everything else crumbles around us.

In our country, ill health is all too common. Unsafe water and poor sanitation alone, other factors that seriously affect people are hunger and malnutrition, diseases like Malaria and HIV and a lack of access to decent healthcare. ill health causes many other problems for communities around the world. When people are unwell, they can't go to school, they can't work and they can't support their families.

DRUG

In cities and towns across Pakistan people who use drugs eke out a chaotic existence in dire poverty, homelessness and unemployment. For many, a square meal every day is a luxury. People who use drugs are a stigmatized and marginalized group, and in many countries including Pakistan they form an underclass a vast majority living on the streets. The illegality of their drug use often places them in conflict with the law. Hated by local communities, they struggle to obtain gainful employment and often resort to petty crime to survive. As a result of sharing injecting equipment, they are vulnerable to transmission of HIV and Hepatitis B & C viruses.

The reality is that poverty, drug use, and HIV require a wide range of strategic responses in our Context. The continuum provides an effective framework by combining the various responses: street-based outreach programmes and drop-in centers, drug treatment, employment training and employment, HIV and AIDS.

Save and Serve Humanity, in this context, provides them with the following services through establishing community health centers at cluster and village level. Medical camps will also organize to provide immediate relief. The Community Health Centers will provide medical services.

Responding to drug treatment need

More than 90% of street based persons using drugs in Pakistan - want to STOP using drugs. A vast majority cannot afford drug treatment (detoxification) services and an even greater number find it difficult to stay off drugs after short treatment episodes. We initiate the process of rehabilitation before detoxification, by counseling clients on post treatment options, which helps them mainstream and reintegrate. Drug treatment and rehabilitation services are provided free of cost in safe environments closely monitored by professional staff trained in medical and psycho-social aspects of substance use and misuse. The need for these services far exceeds the number of people we can serve due to limited financial resources, and at times making difficult choices to selectively provide these services.

We believe that programs that see people using drugs as a solution and not a problem will result in reduced stigma and discrimination and offer a sustainable answer to poverty, drug use, HIV and AIDS.

We will organized a training session for these people for two months, During the two month, people using with drug have access to a variety of vocational skills they can learn and practice, the primary objective of providing this opportunity is to help effected people regain health, confidence and bring about a positive change

HIV & AIDS RELATED SERVICES

We must work together to fight the stigma and ignorance surrounding this disease, but perhaps even more importantly, we should learn to help each other and not turn our back on other women and mothers who need support.

The impact of HIV and AIDS is extremely high in the developing world – home 95 per cent of those living with the disease. AIDS is more than a health problem. It feeds a brutal cycle: Hunger and malnutrition can force people to dangerous behavior, for example women selling their bodies for food. At the same time, poor people infected with HIV are often too sick to work and earn an income. They often have neither the resources to pay for medical treatment nor the nutritious diet needed to tolerate the strong medication.

Treating more than just the symptoms:

Approximately 40% of street based persons injecting drugs across Pakistan are HIV positive. Fifty percent are married with three children per household resulting in transmission of HIV from husbands to wives and intimate partners. Ten percent of the wives are HIV positive. We will provide access to HIV and AIDS diagnostics services including Voluntary Confidential Counseling and Testing facility and portable machines to measure CD4 cell count. We will approach to Public and Govt sector clinics for AIDS treatment (anti retro virals), baseline diagnostics and treatment of opportunistic infections.

As we view HIV and AIDS not just as a health problem but as a cause and effect of poverty, we do more than simply treating a symptom. Our aim to prevent infections by educating girls and boys on sexual and reproductive health. We make sure people have enough to eat and help them earn an income and have access to safe water. We will provide access to services such as condoms, voluntary counseling and testing and prevention and treatment of sexually transmitted infections. We advocate for policy changes to reduce discrimination and improve health support. And we help commercial sex workers protect themselves from HIV infection – and from violent discrimination by police, clients and others.

Reduction in the global incident of HIV/AIDS and the full protection of the rights of people infected and affected by HIV/AID

Reducing drug use related harms:

The primary focus of the harm reduction services will be provided by the Save and Serve Humanity and its partners is to prevent transmission of HIV and Hepatitis B &C viruses. Transmission and prevalence rates of Hepatitis C (89%) and HIV (38%) among street based persons who inject drugs in Pakistan has reached pandemic proportions due to sharing of infected syringes/needles, lack of awareness on prevention and absence of quality HIV prevention services at scale.

Objectives:

1. To increase access to interventions for the preventions of STI'S AND HIV/AIDS through integrated, gender, sensitive sexual and reproductive health program.
2. To increase access to care, support and treatment for people infected and support for those affected by HIV/AIDS
3. To reduce social, religious , culture , economic , legal and political barriers that make people vulnerable to HIV/AIDS

Programme Strategies:

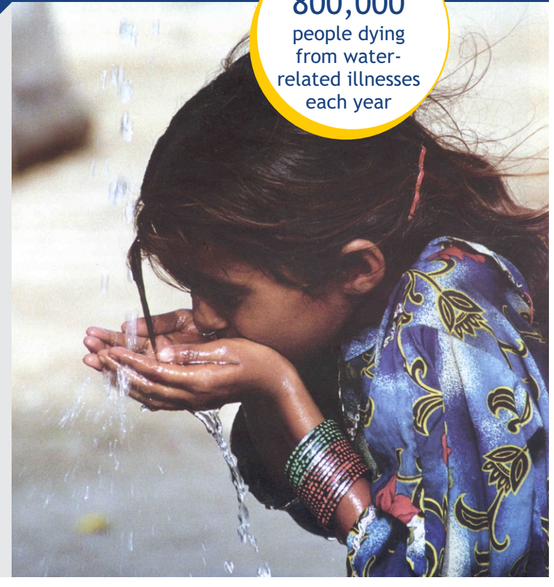

1. Raise awareness of, and sensitivity to HIV/AIDS and related issues at all level through a variety of different channels
2. Advocate to create an enabling environment for the promotion and exercise of human rights.
3. Actively seek partnership with govt, civil society organizations
4. Involve stakeholders including people living with HIV/AIDS
5. Participate in and strengthen networks with dealing HIV/AIDS

HEPATITIS

'Electricity, road, school and hospital, we have not even thought about it, we only need clean water and few morsels of bread'.

With over 800,000 people dying from water-related illnesses each year, unsafe water is the single biggest obstacle to the progression and health of communities in the developing world. Knowledge about health and hygiene is lacking. Save and Serve Humanity team will delivers education programmes, to trained Save and Serve Humanity works to provide people with access to clean water. The types of communities we work with vary greatly so our approach reflects this. Assessing the need for water on an individual basis, we tailor our solutions to specific problems. We also effort to install filtration plan to specific area with the support of Donor.

We understand that the responsibility to provide clean water and sanitation does not end when construction does. When delivering our programmes we carry out water testing to make sure that water is safe to use and we support local people in maintaining projects through participatory approaches. people to use water safely and to keep their water sources clean.

REHABILITATION

A vast majority of Drug user and HIV/AIDS positive people are poor, extremely weak and hungry and often ask for time-out of their often messy and stigmatized life.

They want to be part of mainstream society and consider gainful employment as an initial but major step towards attachment.

We will offer two months residential program for people who use drugs, are HIV positive and taking ARV medication for AIDS treatment.

This program provides a helpful safe learning environment with drug, HIV and AIDS specific health and psycho-social care. The program will be linked with the Public sector facilities for ART, treatment of opportunistic infections, TB and advanced medical care.

Staff facilitates and supports in conflict resolution, disclosure related to HIV, counseling related to adherence, particularly in follow up.

Referral Services:

We will work with provincial and district level Public sector, administration, health, law enforcement and social sectors for medical care, rights based services and an enabling environment for people who use drugs. Linkages will be developed with wide range of referral services by Save and Serve Humanity and its partner organizations.

These linkages will be in three tiers

1. Public sector to avoid duplication and maintain sustainability
2. Private sector for specialized referrals.
3. Corporate sector for community based support.

In the Private sector we link up with drug treatment services, on street abscess and wound management, nutrition, HIV and AIDS related diagnostics services and the corporate sector for community based support. We will also try to increase the pool of our referral services to other areas e.g. employment, skills training, etc.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Through Capacity Building

How Your Money is spent

At Save and Serve Humanity we deliver your money in an efficient and wholly accountable way. Transparency is important to you and to us. We do everything we can to reduce the costs of delivering our projects so that at least 92% of your donation will benefit communities directly.

92% is used for relief and development work

08% is used to generate further funds

0% of your donation is spent on admin
